Newry-Bethel Town Line Discussed

The Board of Selectmen met Monday evening, Sept. 24, and acted on a long and varied agenda. The Selectmen met with Jeff Hole, the Town's attorney to review pending court cases and then with Mr. Hole and Newry Selectmen Roger Hanscom, Willard Wright, and Steve Wight concerning the Bethel-Newry town line. Although there was much discussion, no action was taken as the two Boards agreed further investigation by Mr. Hole was necessary. The Town line question centers on the fact that the line observed by property owners does not follow the line as laid out by the state legislature when the Towns were formed.

At 7:15 a public hearing was held on the application of Susan O'Donnell, d/b/a Mothers', for a special amusement permit. Mrs. O'Donnell explained to the Board that she was interested in hiring an occasional single entertainer, such as a guitarist or a pianist to play amplified music. No members of the general public were present to speak about the application and the Board voted to issue the permit.

The Board reviewed the liquor license application of Esther Crook-ett, d/b/a, the Bethel Spa and gave their approval to the application.

After considerable discussion and consultation with the Town's attorney, the Board voted to hold a moratorium on the issuance (new and renewal) of all concealed weapon permits until the State Legislature considers and sets standards and guidelines for the issuance of such permits.

The Selectmen reviewed and approved the Manager's recommendations regarding the Municipalities Committee:

(a) That the Selectmen, based on the recommendation of the Facilities Committee, and previous discussions, establish the highway garage and ambulance service space as the priorities for further detailed study and recommendations.

(b) That the Selectmen contact all current Facilities Committee members and ask those interested in working on the established priorities to continue service on the committee.

(c) That the Selectmen also appoint Robert Davis and a representative of the Ambulance Service to the committee.

S.A.D. #44 Directors Meet at Woodstock

The M. S. A. D. #44 board of directors met at the Woodstock Elementary School on Monday evening of this week. Prior to the session Woodstock parents and faculty conducted tours of the facility and served refreshments.

Supt. Kenneth Smith discussed results of the district testing program with the board as well as reporting on the results of Student Aptitude Tests at Telstar.

The board approved the appointment of Marjorie Demarest as Telstar drama coach for the 1979-80 year.

The position of director of elementary physical education was eliminated. This was a supervisory position unfilled for the current year. The board's action should in no way detract from the current physical education program offered the students at the elementary level in S. A. D. #44.

Supt. Smith was authorized to contract for intramural programs in the Andover, Woodstock and Crescent Park Elementary Schools. Student handbooks for Woodstock Elementary School and Telstar Regional High School were approved by the board.

Permission was granted for the Gideons to make New Testaments available to the fifth graders in the district.

The superintendent was authorized to receive bids for the use of a ski area for the Telstar alpine skiing program for the 1979-80 school year. Also he was authorized to accept bids for the sale of a 1971 Chevrolet ¾-ton pick up truck.

Record Attendance At Annual Gould Alumni Week End

Record numbers of alumni returned on Saturday, Sept. 22, to the Gould Academy campus for Reunion '79, the school's Annual Alumni Day. Except for a change in location of the "Lumberman's Breakfast," the weather cooperated beautifully and everyone enjoyed the blue sky and the autumn hues of the nearby mountains.

The breakfast, originally scheduled to be held at the Bethel Inn Beach Club on Songo Pond, was moved to the Gehring Hall Dining Room because of the early morning rain, clouds and cold. There, 170 alumni and their families enjoyed a hearty New England breakfast of eggs, pancakes, baked beans and pastries.

After the breakfast, over 100 alumni assembled in the Bethel Historical Society's Moses Mason House to watch and hear a slide/history presentation by Dr. Stanley Howe, Gould '62, curator of the Museum, about the history of the Academy.

The luncheon and annual meeting of the Alumni Association was held in the William Bingham Gymnasium at noon where 300 alumni, including 50 Gould seniors, enjoyed a buffet provided by Seiler's of New England, the school's food service.

Employer's Perspective of Career Development Discussed at Meeting of Community Education Work Council

"Employee Career Development—the Employer Perspective" was the subject of the Sept. 19 meeting of the Bethel Area Community Education Work Council. A presentation by a panel consisting of three area employers focused on the problems and possibilities of employee skill development and training, including the way such factors as the size and nature of a business affect the types of career development possible for its employees and whether or not an investment in employee development pays off in terms of increased productivity and profit for the firm.

Dick Rasor, owner of the Bethel Inn, began the panel discussion by stating that an employee's commitment to his job or career is vitally important, and that skill development and advancement help to stimulate commitment. He saw the expenditure of actual cash as the major barrier to employee development faced by small employers, but felt this problem could be offset by a contribution of time and effort by the employer to show employees his genuine concern and interest in their career advancement.

To Introduce Dental Health Education Soon at S. A. D. #44 Elementary Level

Very soon, the elementary schools in S. A. D. #44 will see the introduction of a new health program as part of the health education curriculum being implemented this year. Dental health education has been selected as a high priority need by the community in the health needs survey last year and the program will be initiated in Grades K-6 (with the exception of the Telstar Middle School), this fall.

This program combines classroom teaching by the dental hygienist, Jane Barth, and the classroom teacher, with the daily and weekly use of fluorides. This type of program is being used all over the State and the country with a great deal of success. Use of fluorides will only be conducted with parental permission from each individual student, and permission slips will be coming soon, and should be returned immediately. While this portion of the program is elective, all parents are encouraged to have their children participate in the daily tablets and weekly rinses at school for the optimum degree of success in preventing dental disease. It should be noted, however, that there will be an area in the permission slip where you must indicate if your child drinks Bethel water (town water), in which case there is no need to take the daily fluoride tablet, but should participate in the rinse program. There are two effective ways for fluorides to work: one is through ingested fluorides, i. e. tablets or fluoridated water, and the second is through a continued on Page Ten

IN MEMORIAM

In Memory of Lillian A. Young
Sept. 11, 1901

Sept. 28, 1977

Your gentle face and patient smile with sadness we recall. You had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all.

The voice is mute and still the heart.

That loved us well and true, Ah, bitter was the trial to part from one so good as you.

You are not forgotten loved one Nor will you ever be.

As long as life and memory last We will remember thee.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore.

As time goes by we miss you more.

Your loving smile, your gentle face,

No one can fill your vacant place.

Your loving husband, children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Sunday River

Mrs. R. M. Fleet, Corres.
Sent in by Eva Yates:

Monday—a nice sunny day! but the nights are cool. We have had bad frosts that make the pretty flowers sick but at the same time is causing the woods to change their pretty green dresses to all the different and beautiful fall colors. People are talking a bad winter, etc., but who really knows? Not you nor I!

Maude Harrington was on Sunday River one day last week. How glad we all are to see Maude drive in for a call—be it a short or long one, she is most welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Daye hosted a party Saturday evening.

Eva and Russell were in Norway on Friday for errands etc. Russell has a new tractor.

Mrs. Eunice Hathaway had callers Sunday.

Tuesday, Sept. 18, Peggy Blake and her mother went to Plymouth, Ashland and Whitefield, N. H., with Laura Hutchins. Old Frederick tore things to pieces strangely in places in New Hampshire.

A phone call Sunday from Tom Yates says tell everybody "I think of them and wish them well." He is busy fixing his new trailer for winter and at the time he called he had just finishing cutting and 22, at Bear River River Grange I was given a basket of lovely cards, gifts and the Grange sang "Happy Birthday." After the meeting we gathered downstairs for lunch. Out came a lovely chocolate cake plus another lovely white cake and they all sang "Happy Birthday" again. The funny part of it all is my birthday has not arrived at this writing. Any way it's sure been a surprise for an old lady and may God bless you all and give you good health and good luck. Sunday, Sept. 23, I had another gift.

Sunday, Peggy Blake, Joe and Eva, all went to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Yates at West Paris for dinner and saw Lawrence's new baby blue brand new truck. Hope now he will not have so many breakdowns on his trucking job all over the eastern states.

wrapping his bull antelope he was lucky enough to get. He is now hoping for a bull clk in November.

The crowd was small at Ladies Night at Bear River Grange Thursday night we did our usual lines of business and had a nice program. The pictures on deer were very, very nice and we thank Tom Wheeler very much.

Peggy Blake spent Sunday evening with her daughter, Myrna Carter and girls. The young lady from Sweden staying with Myrna is quite happy here in Maine.

Bryce and Edwick Yates helped Peggy Blake reinforce the roof of her barn Saturday morning.

The Leroy Kenistons had a friendly cook out Sunday night with neighbors.

FRANKLIN GRANGE #124

Franklin Grange #124 held an installation supper Sept. 17 with West Paris Grange joining them for the ceremonies. Chester Hayes, Deputy from Winthrop Grange, Shelburne, N. H., and his staff installed the officers. This was an open meeting so visitors were present.

After the installation, a short Maine program by the Lecturer, Olive Davis, consisting of Maine songs, readings and quiz with the thought for closing number being: Maine, the best State in the union. Has beauties galore.

Colorful hill and mountains in fall, that we adore.

Rivers, streams, lakes and valleys are spread all around;

With fresh air and sunshine Our State surely abounds

Let's keep it untainted, From clutter and debris.

Safe for our children's children. The beauties for them to see.

There were 50 in attendance. On Oct. 1, musicians will hold the officers' positions.

Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres.

The Ladies Aid held a meeting in their building Thursday. Same officers were reelected except Marion York is to take care of secretary's books while she is here.

Ellen Hoywood was appointed to take care of stone repair and a chimney cap at a reasonable price.

Murphy and mothers of young children are to be asked to take care of Halloween party and the group will donate $25 for supplies and prizes. Seven members paid dues. Next meeting planned for Oct. 4 with revival of nine square quilt project.

The foliage is very colorful and the weather mostly warm and sunny. The air is clear and fresh and the usual slow moving fall traffic was much in evidence last week end. Several people, in cluding many elderly, stop by the church and go inside, sit on the schoolhouse steps and, presumably, bask in memories.

Margaret, Marion and I joined by Pam Drumm in Errol, attended the Fair in Wilson's Mills Saturday. We enjoyed ourselves visiting old friends and making new ones among the fine people there. I came back with a whist gadget from the white elephant table.

Worried about paying your electric bills this winter? We can help.

If paying your electric service bills this winter is a hardship for you, and you meet the Federal Income Poverty Guidelines shown below, Central Maine Power Company has payment arrangements that can help you.

Here's how it works.

You can make any reasonable payment arrangement on your monthly electric service bill during December, January, February and March when your heating costs are highest. Then during the Spring, when your heating bills are lower, you'll be asked to pay more and catch up.

Here's what you do.

First, don't wait until you're in trouble. Contact us before we have to take credit action against you for non-payment so we don't have to disconnect your electricity.

You'll find your District Office location and telephone number listed elsewhere in this ad.

Call or visit your local CMP office and discuss your personal situation with your Customer Service Representative. Collect calls will be accepted from any customer calling from within our service area.

If you meet the income guidelines and would like to make payment arrangements, your Customer Service Representative will ask you to sign two agreements:

1. That you promise to pay your electric bills under the terms of the individual payment arrangements worked out for you.
2. That you qualify under the Federal Income Poverty Guidelines.

CMP wants to make this service available to anyone who needs it. But it's up to you to start the wheels moving.

Although the information contained in this ad is specifically designed to assist the elderly and low income, CMP will also work with any customer to help resolve a potential credit action situation.

WEST BETHEL UNION CHURCH

From the sermon by Bert Griffith based on the text, Matthew 3:9, "and as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man named Matthew sitting at the receipt of customs; and he saith unto him, follow me. And he arose and followed him."

Many today feel insignificant in light of the massive advancement in science and technology. Man feels dehumanized. He is nothing but a number. In the eyes of Christ, ALL MEN have great possibilities. Jesus is determined to bring out the best in us, if we will let Him. Christ didn't call Matthew, or me, or anyone else for what he was. He calls us all for what we could be and for the potential that lies without our very souls. Our lives are very significant in the eyes of Jesus Christ. When Jesus called Matthew, he got up and followed. When the shadow of Christ fell across the page that Matthew was working on, he looked up into his eyes and said, "Yes, that's the Messiah, I'll follow Him," and he did.

Every time one of us makes a decision to follow Christ, we look up into the eyes of the Messiah, and we say, "Yes, I'll follow Him, and Jesus will change your life as he changed Matthew. Matthew was changed from insignificant to meaningful. He was a tax collector—and even worse he was a Jew who collected taxes for the Romans. He was despised, but Christ saw in Matthew a hidden hunger and a desire. Your life is significant—much more than you can imagine. People see the sinner. Christ sees the saint; Jesus has an eye for the inner man. Yes, our lives are very significant in the eyes of Jesus Christ.

Matthew also needed Christ. He wanted to change. He was tired of his hopelessness. He needed Christ to remake his life. He who was despised amongst his peers wrote the first Gospel—what an honor Matthew had. We know what God wants us to do. He speaks to us through the Holy Spirit every moment of the day. If you are unsaved, come forward now and be saved. Christ needs you and I this very day. In Matthew 9, Verse 12, Jesus said unto them "They that be whole need not a physician..." Quietly trust yourself to Christ. Ask him to be the Lord of your life. Ask him to be your Saviour, and then when anyone asks why you are the way you are, you can gently and respectfully tell them what the Lord, Jesus Christ has done and is doing in your life.

OF CAREER DEVELOPMENT
ing, pointed out by Dexter Stowell of Stowell Wood Products, Inc., is the fact that, in the wood products industry, most of the work is short-term, with special orders coming in and being filled quickly, giving little time for in-depth training.

Because an employer does not know what type of skills he may need, training becomes a difficult guessing game. Mr. Stowell also pointed out that effective in-plant training would require special personnel whose major responsibility is employee skill development. He did not believe that most small firms could afford to hire specialists in employee development.

Instead, he felt training could be better accomplished through community programs such as Adult Education, and through employer reimbursement for related courses taken outside the plant.

Les Otten of Sunday River Skiway explained that employees must realize that to earn an increase in real wages they must increase their productivity, thereby increasing the profits of the firm. He felt that the usual system of advancement, which promotes employees to higher skill levels, has as a major flaw the fact that while skill level increases, an employee is still not motivated to become more productive at the new level.

Instead, advancement should be granted because of increased productivity. Programs addressing employee growth and development must focus not only on skill training but on increasing motivation and productivity.

Following the panel presentation the subject was opened to the general audience. Discussion focused on several related issues, including the problems of instilling motivation in young workers and the importance of education as a tool for enrichment as well as advancement, to create not simply a developed employee, but a well-rounded employed citizen whose general awareness has been increased.

Donald Bennett, moderator for the meeting, asked each of the panel members to consider how they felt the Education Work Council could best assist them in their particular situations. He pointed out that one goal of the Council is to improve communications within the community between the public and private sectors and agencies who can best accomplish the tasks which need to be done.

Mr. Rasor said that he would like an opportunity to gather all of his employees together to hear representatives from the Education Work Council and other community groups, such as Cathy Newell, the Adult Education Coordinator, explain what opportunities are available in the Bethel area for skill training, upgrading, and educational enrichment. Mr. Otten felt it was important to instill high school students with a sense that increased motivation pays off in terms of career advancement, and he offered to work with Telstar teachers, speaking to small groups of students at the high school.

Mr. Bennett reminded everyone of the Career Education resource center being established by the MSAD #44 Career Education team. The resource center should be an aid to both employees and employers seeking assistance with skill development needs.

Scheduled for Oct. 23, at Telstar, the PSAT/NMSQT measures verbal and mathematical aptitude—two abilities important in doing college work—and gives students a chance to find out what the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) is like.

By taking the PSAT/NMSQT, students can enter the competition for scholarships administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and ask to participate in the College Board's Student Search Service, which gives students an opportunity to hear from colleges that they might not otherwise know about.

With their score reports, students receive a copy of "About Your PSAT/NMSQT Scores," a booklet that contains valuable how-to information about estimating SAT scores, finding out where to get and how to use detailed information about colleges and financing a college education.

In addition, students can use the College Board's "The College Handbook, 1979-80," to compare their scores with those of enrolled students at more than 2,400 colleges and universities.

Scheduled for Oct. 23, at Telstar, the PSAT/NMSQT measures verbal and mathematical aptitude—two abilities important in doing college work—and gives students a chance to find out what the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) is like.

By taking the PSAT/NMSQT, students can enter the competition for scholarships administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and ask to participate in the College Board's Student Search Service, which gives students an opportunity to hear from colleges that they might not otherwise know about.

With their score reports, students receive a copy of "About Your PSAT/NMSQT Scores," a booklet that contains valuable how-to information about estimating SAT scores, finding out where to get and how to use detailed information about colleges and financing a college education.

In addition, students can use the College Board's "The College Handbook, 1979-80," to compare their scores with those of enrolled students at more than 2,400 colleges and universities.

TELSTAR BLANKS ST. DOM'S 1-0 IN FIELD HOCKEY

Karen Brooks was the shutout goalie for the Rebels, who raised their season record to 5 and 1.

The Saints won the J. V. game 2-0; action was stopped by rain in the second half.

ANDOVER COLLECTOR INTERVIEWED IN MORENCI, ARIZONA

A reporter from the Eastern Arizona Courier did an article on the cookie jar collection of Mrs. Anthony (Tamara Emerson) Poole, a former Andover resident, on Sept. 12 at her home in Morenci, Ariz.

Mrs. Poole has 85 at home in Arizona and some cookie jars packed back at her parents' home in Maine. She has some original McCoy cookie jars, "a sweet delight to any avid container collector." Among them a large squirrel—painted in browns, tans and white intricately crafted—an original Aunt Jemima in full color.

Mrs. Poole started out her collection with antique irons and trivets but decided there was a much larger, more interesting variety of jars than irons, and less expensive.

Coming from a family of collectors—pack rats or whatever one such is called—her mother, antique irons, trivets, old clocks, and a little of this and that—her sister, cream pitchers, depression glass—a brother, horse bells and bells in general—another brother, antique furniture—her daughters, Octavia, six years old, old purses and Avon figurines, Medea, a fancier of tin boxes.

She admitted to the reporter: her family and friends aid in the collection and in return she seeks out their wants. When she returns home it's a swap meet. When asked a price value, her answer was "I love and value them for what they are."

She is anxious to find a 1938 Jimmy Cricket—does anyone know of one—or any she doesn't have. She keeps a file on all she has and where they came from, price, and some were given by friends and relatives. Her oldest and favorite and the starter—a china jar from England with a pewter top and handle—known there as a cracker jar—it is painted pink with daisies hand painted on, thought to be about 125 years old—given by her aunt Marjorie.

The reporter wrote that an eye catcher in her kitchen was a Hansel and Gretel House on her refrigerator, and a Disneyland dog catcher jar with a plant in it.

Among her beautifully arranged shelves was a Friar Tuck, the Campbell Soup kids, a big ice cream cone with a frosty vanilla top—and Oscar the Sesame Street Grouch.

Anyone having a jar they want to be rid of please let her know: c/o Postmaster, Morenci, Arizona.

SOMETHING NEW AT FABULOUS FRYEBURG FAIR —SEPT. 30-OCT. 7

There's always something new and different at Fryeburg Fair and this year is no exception.

Open Sunday - through - Sunday, Sept. 30 through Oct. 7 there's a daily harness racing program starting Tuesday. New features, new buildings, a group of on-air personalities from WCSH-Television and a huge new parking area have been added for the 129th annual presentation of the West Oxford Agricultural Society.

Just west of the Fair Grounds and adjacent to it, the new parking area consists of 15 additional acres which will be cleared by opening day, with room for 1,000 more cars. That means parking convenient to walk-in gates at the back of the race track-stables area.

A new "Expo Four" building is ready and so is an extension to Fryeburg Fair's popular Farm Museum buildings. Built between the two existing structures and utilizing handsome old siding from ox sheds dismantled late last year, the new facility will house heavy equipment and contain ox stalls to eventually provide a close-up opportunity for young and old to study animals near the main entrance gate and kiddie rides area.

A new rest room facility has been opened just north of the Midway. Two new ox barns have replaced earlier structures.

WCSH-Television Day will share the Monday spotlight with the popular annual Saco Valley Woodsmen's Field Day. Personalities from Portland's Channel 6 will be on the fair grounds in a WCSH-TV booth and will be filming sequences for later telecast.

Four "front-line" NewsCenter 6 personalities will be on hand.

John Dougherty will be on hand to award prizes to winners in ox and horse-pull competitions. His TV News Program co-anchor, Michelle Gillen, will make presentations to powder-puff winners in Monday's ox-pulling event. Paul Cousin's, Channel 6's Meteorologist will challenge all comers in a horse-shoe pitching match. Sports expert Bruce Glasier will be covering the Woodmen's event and awarding trophies.

Kiddie rides in the Museum Area will be half-priced until 5 p. m. on WCSH Day at Fryeburg Fair.

Throughout the week Maine's Blue Ribbon Classic will feature livestock exhibits, 4-H Club events and exhibits in the Expo buildings, calf and pig scrambles and horse, pony and ox pulling. The Friday Baby Beef Auction is always a highlight at Fryeburg Fair, where nightly shows will feature such performers as Dick Cobb's Auto Daredevils and country western greats Billy Walker, Roy Drusky, David Rogers, Pee Wee King and many more. Senior Citizens Day will be Tuesday, Oct. 2.

Long considered New England's leading old-time country fair, this season's attendance is expected to surpass even that of 1979, when 145,000 people passed through the gates.

Events start daily at 9 a. m. and there is a nightly show each of the eight evenings of the Fair. Billy Burr's Fun-O-Rama will again be the Midway show.

This Week in Washington

by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie

The Budget

The Senate took two steps forward and one step backward last week in approving federal spending limits for the 1980 fiscal year, which begins Oct. 1.

The result was a budget document which does not go as far as I would like in combatting the real enemy our country faces — inflation.

The Senate is becoming familiar with the new budget process, which attempts to force the Congress to look at the overall budget before making the individual spending decisions which make up the budget's parts. As a result, the debate last week was more than ever a debate over national priorities.

I think that is a healthy sign. The second bit of progress involved a proposal I advanced on behalf of the Budget Committee to force seven Senate Committees to re-examine work they had already completed on a number of spending bills and to find new savings of $3.6 billion in a wide range of federal programs.

The Congress had set targets last spring which assumed those savings. Over the summer, the hard work of budget cutting had not been done. When we wrote the Budget Act in 1974, we included a process called "reconciliation" to deal with this kind of situation. The Senate agreed that we ought to invoke this process—in effect, an order to the committees to bring their spending plans in line with the budget.

Budget cutting is seldom popular and never easy. But the job must be done if we are ever to make a meaningful contribution to the fight against inflation. Balancing the budget will not magically bring an end to inflation, but it will help. And as important, it will be a sign that the Congress means business when it says we must all exercise restraint. If we are to ask the people to make sacrifices in the battle against inflation, we must first discipline ourselves.

There was a great deal of brave talk during the debate on my amendment. Nearly everyone identified inflation as the villain and vowed to fight it to death. The very next day, the Senate seemed to forget everything it had said and voted to increase spending for defense by $3.2 billion next year and perhaps $110 billion over the next five years.

I am one of many Senators deeply concerned about our national security. The debate over the SALT II treaty has raised serious questions about our military capabilities. We ought to examine our current defense posture and evaluate our future needs carefully and completely. The Senate Budget Committee recognized the need for greater defense spending in future years during its work on the budget. But that was apparently not enough for some Senators who believe we ought to begin spending more now, even though all the evidence says there is literally no new piece of military hardware we could purchase next year with the money.

I was frankly puzzled by this turnaround in the Senate. Our national security is not

OXFORD COUNTY COUNCIL

JACKSON-SILVER POST & UNIT

Jackson-Silver Post and Unit were hosts to the Oxford County Council, American Legion and Auxiliary, for their September meeting in their new spacious hall.

The Past County Commanders and Presidents were honored and their pictures taken by Donald Brown for the Bethel Citizen. Among the 14 Past Commanders and 10 Past Presidents were Past State President Myra Stevens of Norway, and the County's first President, Adeline Dexter, Bethel, in 1947.

There were many VIPs in attendance, so the State Adjutant, Dan Lambert, of Waterville, acted as master of ceremonies to introduce them at the joint meeting. Among them were State Commander Anthony Jordan, Wiscasset; Dept. President Sandra Strom, Oakland; NEC Vito DePhillip, Rumford; State Historian, Roland Bowie, Lisbon Falls; Dept. Vice Commander, "Chick" Cicotte and his wife, Second District President, Carol Cicotte, Topsham; District Commander Frank Donley, Brunswick; and Fourth District President, Vickie Borton, Unity.

Commander Raymond Hakala was brought forward to receive the All-Time High Consecutive Membership Award, Post #68 is far ahead of other Posts in the State for this citation.

The big surprise of the evening was the honoring of Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings, both charter members of Jackson-Silver Post and Unit and having belonged 60 and 58 years. A money tree was presented them by Oxford County Commander Richard Walton, and a special three-tier cake in blue and gold, inscribed to "Alanson and Fannie, for 60 years of service," made by their granddaughter, Dorothy West. The four generation family members were also introduced.

Delicious refreshments were served by the host Unit members; President Joyce Hathaway and her faithful workers.

The next meeting of the Council will be in Buckfield, Oct. 16.

South Woodstock - West Bethel

Olivia Davis, Corres.

Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield Packard called on Mrs. Esther Davis Sunday.

Thursday we had a killing frost in this area. It was 20° out back of my house in a shaded area. So that meant cleaning out what one could salvage of the garden produce so that's what I did—Friday morning. The shell beans didn't mature as fast as I had hoped and some were frozen so the hens had a feed on those. Of course, they were planted late because of the wetness of the garden. But I learned a lesson that they must be planted earlier if you want them to ripen.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Morgan visited his parents Sunday, Sept. 16. They will be over again Sept. 23 when Mrs. Morgan and two boys will stay the three days Craig will be in South Woodstock attending the Adventist Teachers' Convention.

Miriam Morgan took her daughter, Mrs. Sheryl Wilbur to Lewiston Friday for further check-up. Mr. and Mrs. James Mason were in South Woodstock, Mass., last week end to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Roni Grover are living in the Jim Mason apartment. Roni is working for his father-in-law, James Mason, and Mrs. Grover works at Mollycokett Motel.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks, Olive Davis, and Richard Felt were at Oxford Grange meeting Friday night. The boys put on their act and Little played her mouth organ for the program for the youth to enjoy.

Both teams played two scoreless quarters of football, although Boothbay had two touchdowns called back during that time. One was a clip on a fine 60 yard pass interception by Tony Bartlett and a second was a series of personal fouls on a Bartlett pass play. That incident resulted in a fight that resulted in the ejection of two players from each side.

Telstar won the battle of the statistics collecting a total of 131 yards on the ground, to 30 for Boothbay. But, mistakes and a good Boothbay effort stopped several potential scoring drives.

Glenn Dunn finally punched over from five yards out capping a fine 70 yard drive in the third period to give Telstar a 6-0 lead.

BOOKMOBILE SCHEDULE
The Harrison Area Bookmobile will make the following stops on Oct. 1: Newry—Bear River Cabins, 10:15-10:45; Willard Wright's residence, 11:00-11:30; Robert Davis's residence 11:45-12:00; West Bethel—Head's Store, 2:30-3:30.

The same careful, case-by-case analysis which we apply to all the other portions of the budget. Frugality in government spending does not stop at the entrance to the Pentagon.

The Senate made a mistake in increasing defense spending next year. The decision will make balancing the budget in 1981 difficult if not impossible. And its only contribution to our defense needs is likely to be simply higher prices for the weapons we are already buying.

North Waterford

— Mrs. Jo Sanderson, Cor. —

Waterford Grange #479 met with Paris Grange on Saturday evening and the following officers were installed by State Grange Steward Donald Dyer and his installing team: Master, Maxine Roak; Overseer, Hugh Roak; Lecturer, Kathy Pulsifer; Steward, Edith Holt; Treasurer, Marlene Littlefield; Assistant Steward, Marjorie Kimball; Secretary, Marjorie Kimball; Gate Keeper, Sherry Kimball.

The other officers will be installed at a later date. The Waterford Grange meets on the second Monday of each month, and are looking for new members. Join us.

The weather doesn't look like we would have a very colorful fall, with all the rain and wind we have been having. The frost warnings sent people scurrying out to gather in the last of their goodies from the garden. Wednesday, Jo Sanderson got the last mess of her late peas.

Albert Weymouth went to Togus Wednesday, for a check up.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pulsifer and boys of Oxford visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Roak, one day recently and while there Darrell Roak, who is stationed in Italy with the U. S. Navy, called home and everyone was able to talk with him. He had just returned from a cruise to France and is looking forward to coming home next summer.

Clyde Stanton drove Kay O'Leary and her sister, Jo Sanderson, to Peru, Wednesday to visit their father, Walter Lord, and they had dinner with him.

We hear Velma Cummings is home from the hospital. We hope she is much better.

The Fryeburg Fair will soon be here. The dates are Sept. 30 through Oct. 7. Tuesday, Oct. 2 is usually Senior Citizens day, so gals, get your pretty bonnets on and meet us there.

Mrs. Arlene Bean of Bethel had Sunday morning breakfast with her mother, Jo Sanderson.

The Knight Riders, the men, that is, gathered at their club house early Sunday morning to do some repairs on it and build new steps. More work will be done later.

Work is slack now in most of the Norway shops, so our town's people are home early, several days a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Cooper and grandson spent the week end here. Mrs. Cooper has just returned

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Resolved that we, the officers and members of Pleasant Valley Grange extend our sincerest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records, a copy sent to Oxford County Citizen to be printed therein, and a copy sent to the family of our beloved sister, as a token of our sympathy.

People here are getting up a good wood pile, ready for cold weather. The past few mornings we have needed a little fire.

I would like to leave you with a poem I enjoyed much.

'Tis a gentle evening
A loon's lonely call
Glimpses of flying squirrels
In hickory trees so tall!

The sweet heavy scent of white roses
Hay, flattened by ruth blade
Lies in perfect symmetry
Into fodder soon to be made.

I hear a rhythmic melody
'Tis crickets under the step
Practicing for perfection
Before the sun will set.

Lord God of all creation
You surely have a way
Of supplying us with beauty
To help us through each day.

A lovely week end. A bit frosty in the morning but it warms up quick. We had a killing frost, Sept. 19, with the temperature at 24°. Across the road there is a large maple tree and one half is a brilliant red while the other half is green.

On Sunday I saw a real live walnut tree just loaded with walnuts and I bought a peek. Six or eight hang in a cluster. They are green and when they are dried they will be black walnuts. A new picture for me.

Callers at Lawrence and Barbara Felts: Sharon, Jenny Soherf, Sandra Coffin, Jennie Boyce, Evelyn Barrett, Joe, Laura Kalinowski, Leonard Pierson, Duffy Bonnie, Bryant Pond; Stacey Stevens, Kevin Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley Sr., and grandson Dougie, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Coffin, Jeff and Jimbo. Ted Braeden came and left some very good corn.

Mr. and Mrs. David Lyons went to Massachusetts for the week end to visit Susan's parents.

Several people told me of their visit to Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass., and I wondered how much it had changed since I went there in 1927 as Oxford County Champion in 4H sewing. My friend, Rita (Farnum) Hoyt, was also a delegate as champion bread maker. Our 4H leader was Mrs. Sadie Lakeway.

We were a bit homesick at first, but found our good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Abner Mann, also of Bryant Pond, in a booth displaying "Mann's Best" round pins and dollypins, so we felt better. Each delegate had a certain amount of work to do before they could go sight seeing. The evening gatherings and programs were great. Of the four thousand 4H members I was the only one to sleep on a half pillow, that I carried from "Pinhook."

When my mother was living she often told us about the "Titanic," only she called it the "H-tanic." The unsinkable ship. I wish she could have seen the Titanic on Channel 8 Sunday evening.

Everyone is busy, pickling, canning and freezing their fruits and vegetables for the winter months. It will soon be time to make mince meat, if a deer strolls by the house.

The chimney at the Community hall has been looked over or inspected and found that it needs to be replaced.

The night of Sept. 19 we had a hard frost. Usually our first frost will just nip the leaves; but Thursday morning the leaves were all black and dead. We have been having beautiful fall days; the fire in the kitchen stove feels so good until after dinner and then in three or four hours the sun goes down and we need a fire again. This is the season of fruit picking and potato harvesting. Once again we have to start thinking of getting our cars ready for the long cold days of winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapman and two children have moved back on to the hill after spending the summer with her grandmother, Ada Balentine at North Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shimamura went to Evergreen Valley Saturday to the A. C. Lawrence's employees get-together.

Charlotte Leavitt, Worcester, Mass., is visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brown, for a couple of weeks.

Thursday I drove Mrs. Myrtle Lapham (we used Mrs. Lapham's new car) and Mrs. Maude Hunt, to Berlin, shopping. We stopped at McDonald's and had our lunch.

Mrs. Lapham told us that it was hers and Leslie's 49th wedding anniversary that day. We had an enjoyable day; but could feel the cold wind coming off the mountain.

Friday Mrs. Myrtle Lapham and Alice Howard visited friends at Ledgewood Nursing Home and Clare Smith, Sunset Home, West Paris.

Mrs. Chuckie Mason was given a shower by her mother, Olga Morgan and Janice Morgan at Mrs. Pat Murphy's this past week. Attending besides those mentioned were Mrs. Mason's two small children, Joyce Stearns, Roxanne Mason, and two children, Nancy Roberts, Syd Murphy and Joanne Cole, Locke Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason Jr., Carole and Melinda and Jody Shimamura, went to Parsonsfield to a 4-H horse show. The sponsoring club was named Manes and Tails. The Mason girls came home with 24 ribbons. Jody Shimamura spent Saturday night at Masons so they could get an early start Sunday morning. After the show they all went to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harmon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Seames, Dawn and Ryan, also went to the show. Dawn had a second place ribbon in lead line and also got a ribbon because all peewees got ribbons. Ricky got a blue ribbon in driving class.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith had Friday night their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Smith, Matthew and Michael as callers from South Paris. Doug Smith arrived Saturday evening and stayed until Sunday and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith of North Conway, arrived for dinner and spent the day.

Sunday my folks, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, had supper with us.

Last week I received in the mail an envelope from East Stoneham with a clipping of our marriage and an old Christmas program that I had participated in in Grammar School. Would like to thank the sender as there was no return address. These memories of the past mean so much more to us as we get older.

Autumn Fantasy
Down leaf—lost paths of green and gray.
Summer dances with bold, bright glances.
For Autumn in his gold beret, With burning eyes and soul on fire.

Autumn follows,
Through knolls and hollows,
Through sumac thicket, scrub and briar,
Until on a hill, he drops forlorn,
His gold cap battered,
His tunic tattered,
His heart impaled on a red hawthorne.

Long lost is summer's emerald gown.
The winds are crying,
Where Autumn's dying
And leaves are burned a bitter brown.

This is the season of fruit picking and potato harvesting. Once again we have to start thinking of getting our cars ready for the long cold days of winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapman and two children have moved back on to the hill after spending the summer with her grandmother, Ada Balentine at North Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shimamura went to Evergreen Valley Saturday to the A. C. Lawrence's employees get-together.

Charlotte Leavitt, Worcester, Mass., is visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brown, for a couple of weeks.

Thursday I drove Mrs. Myrtle Lapham (we used Mrs. Lapham's new car) and Mrs. Maude Hunt, to Berlin, shopping. We stopped at McDonald's and had our lunch. Mrs. Lapham told us that it was hers and Leslie's 49th wedding anniversary that day. We had an enjoyable day; but could feel the cold wind coming off the mountain.

Friday Mrs. Myrtle Lapham and Alice Howard visited friends at Ledgeview Nursing Home and Clare Smith, Sunset Home, West Paris.

Mrs. Chuckie Mason was given a shower by her mother, Olga Morgan and Janice Morgan at Mrs. Pat Murphy's this past week. Attending besides those mentioned were Mrs. Mason's two small children, Joyce Stearns, Roxanne Mason, and two children, Nancy Roberts, Syd Murphy and Joanne Cole, Locke Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason Jr., Carole and Melinda and Jody Shimamura, went to Parsonsfield to a 4-H horse show. The sponsoring club was named Manes and Tails. The Mason girls came home with 24 ribbons. Jody Shimamura spent Saturday night at Masons so they could get an early start Sunday morning. After the show they all went to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harmon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Seames, Dawn and Ryan, also went to the show. Dawn had a second place ribbon in lead line and also got a ribbon because all peewees got ribbons. Ricky got a blue ribbon in driving class.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith had Friday night their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Smith, Matthew and Michael as callers from South Paris. Doug Smith arrived Saturday evening and stayed until Sunday and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith of North Conway, arrived for dinner and spent the day.

Sunday my folks, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, had supper with us.

Last week I received in the mail an envelope from East Stoneham with a clipping of our marriage and an old Christmas program that I had participated in in Grammar School. Would like to thank the sender as there was no return address. These memories of the past mean so much more to us as we get older.

Autumn Fantasy
Down leaf—lost paths of green and gray,
Summer dances with bold, bright glances,
For Autumn in his gold beret,
With burning eyes and soul on fire,
Autumn follows,
Through knolls and hollows,
Through sumac thicket, scrub and briar,
Until on a hill, he drops forlorn,
His gold cap battered,
His tunic tattered,
His heart impaled on a red hawthorne,
Long lost is summer's emerald gown.
The winds are crying,
Where Autumn's dying
And leaves are burned a bitter brown.

Wednesday, Sept. 28, 1977
You were someone I could talk to Someone no one could replace
You were someone I could laugh with
Till the tears ran down my face
You were someone I could turn to
When I needed a helping hand
You were someone I loved more
As each year came to an end
You made me a lucky person
To have a mother and friend all in one
So you who have a mother
Cherish her with care
For you will never know the heartache
Till you see her empty chair.

Greenwood City

Mrs. Cellista Morgan, Corres.

Morning dawned briskly on Monday and we breakfasted at six thirty as usual.

Two black ducks were busy among the weeds by the shore.

The leaves turning color were like the sunrise, an exploding rocket of colors across the pond.

Our birds are few now except for the return of the chickadees.

A shimmering purple haze lay far down the pond.

Loveliness and peace rested on the country side, as the morning moved on.

By noon Ruth and I had arranged for a hike into the hills. We drove, a little after one o'clock, to the camp settlement, where the Town Meeting Elm stands. Then we took a left turn toward Long Mountain. Since we had been here last—possibly last fall, the road had changed to a "boulevard", wide and smooth as roads through woods seldom are.

The first change we noticed was an iron gate which had been put across the road to protect the wood which was well up the road, piled and ready to truck out. A man working on the road told us it had to be done.

All along, there was lovely scenery.

We saw frequent traces of moose, as well as bears in the muddy places of the road. We thought that we might see a moose but not a bear even though the tracks were fresh. They are a hard to see animal, for they usually get out of sight as soon as possible.

From one point we looked up at a bare ridge, the naked rock rising abruptly from the forest. It reminded us of a barrier of a wall on Overset over which we recently traveled a six and one-half mile jaunt. Off, Boy—That day! An forgotten story.

We kept on toward Long Mountain. Those in the distance whose tops we could see; unfinished parts of the globe; I call them, ever retreating before us. We looked up and remarked, "Not a single cloud is in sight."

One time we turned aside to explore a road that led over rough and rocky ground and through a field of balsam fire and ferns growing thick about their feet.

A little further on, the first grew in groups which joined groups. We decided to turn back to the boulevard.

The valley grew deeper and we followed one. At last we came to the end where there were wood piles and logs and a clearing for many more.

The evergreens here filled the hollow between the hills like dark river. The green beyond made a lovely variety over the landscape. Sometimes they stood clustered around ledges and stones, big and noticeable. The meeting of all these trees, close, feathered im-

A reception was held at the Locke Mills Legion Hall which was decorated with fresh flowers from the garden of the bride's uncles, Leo and Andrew Witter, and arranged in a cabaret style. Terri Littlehale attended the gift table. The wedding buffet was catered and served by the Bethel Star. The wedding cake was made and served by Mrs. Christine Kimball.

Guests from throughout Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, West Virginia, North Carolina, Wisconsin, Florida, and Canada attended.
